Conference Flag To Warrensburg, In Part at Least

Mules Down Bearcats in Game Here Last Friday by Score of 12 to 0.—Maryville Team Plays Good Ball

M. I. A. A. Standings
Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Warrensburg	3	0	1.000
Kirkville	3	1	.750
Maryville	2	2	.500
Springfield	1	3	.250
Cape Girardeau	0	3	.000

The 1926 football season is almost a thing of the past. The conference season, as far as Maryville is concerned, is a thing of the past. The Bearcats have finished third in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association this year. Out of the four conference games played, two were won and two were lost.

The conference title will go in part at least to Warrensburg. The Mules have one more game to play, against Cape Girardeau. Should they win this, their record would be clear, and their percentage would be perfect. No other team in the M. I. A. A. has come through with a clean slate this year.

Should Warrensburg lose to Cape, there would be a tie between the Mules and the Kirkville Bulldogs in the race. It is hardly likely that the Cape will be able to trim Warrensburg this week, since the southeast Missourians have not won a conference tilt.

The championship was won by Maryville last year, and the year before that the Bearcats tied with Kirkville for the flag.

No Flag This Year

The Bearcats were thrown out of all hopes of another championship last Thursday when the Mules came to Maryville and won the annual Armistice Day game 12 to 0. Had Maryville won this game, nothing could have kept the Bearcats out of another tie for the championship.

But the game was lost to a better team. It was a hard-fought game, and one which will long be remembered. The world knows only the score, but those who witnessed the game are in no way disheartened by the defeat. The Bearcats lost fighting. Never did they lose heart, and the final whistle found them battling just as strenuously as when the game started.

A touchdown in the second quarter and two field goals in the last period were the margin of victory. The 6-point came when Roy Brown, flashy Mule halfback, cut through the right side of Maryville's line where wagon loads of room had been made by the Warrensburg forward wall. The kick for extra point was wild.

Whiteman's Toe Scores

In the fourth period the Mules did not have quite the punch to score a touchdown, but the toe of Whiteman, their quarterback, was adequate twice and field goals were registered from the 35-yard line and the 20-yard line.

Maryville missed two chances to score. Early in the game an intercepted pass gave the Bearcats the vantage and they worked the ball to their opponent's 3-yard line. Here they had four downs to make a touchdown, but the Mules balked and the Bearcats lost the ball on the 2-foot line after four vicious plunges at the line which were more viciously pushed back.

The Mules had the advantage on yards from scrimmage and on punts. In the former they scored 140 to 96 for Maryville, and their kicks averaged ten yards more than those of the Maryville booters.

The Bearcats were superior, however, in first downs, the tally being ten and six, and in forward passes they were more successful.

But One Regret

But one thing caused regret in the game. That was an injury which forced Captain Dave Ends out of the game at the end of the first half. The plucky Bearcat suffered a shattered shoulder late in the second quarter and was unable to play after the semester ended. His grit was outstanding, however, and he threw four forward passes with his injured arm. Finally, he was forced to relinquish the passing to Berst.

The injury will keep him in a crippled state for several weeks. His shoulder was hurt earlier in the season and he was able to play but a moment or so in the Kirkville and Springfield games. In the Warrensburg game the shoulder was battered badly and the Bearcat captain is carrying his arm in a sling.

"Fat" Lewis, giant Bearcat tackle was on the sidelines during the game. He had sustained a shoulder injury in practice on Tuesday night, when the collar bone was torn away from his

Teachers Report K.C. Meeting an Outstanding One

President Lamkin Heads Building Committee, While Several Teachers Have Offices in Groups of Association

Some twenty-five College instructors who attended the sixty-fourth annual meeting of the Missouri State Teachers Association in Kansas City last week reported that this year's gathering was one of the most profitable ever held in the history of the organization.

Miss Genevieve Turk, principal of the Scarritt School of Kansas City, was elected president of the association for the coming year. She succeeded Dr. E. L. Hendricks, president of the Warrensburg State Teachers College.

John L. Brachan, Clayton, Mo., was elected first vice-president; E. B. Street of Independence second vice-president, and Miss Ethel Hook, Kirksville, Mo., third vice-president.

Members of the executive committee elected were M. G. Neale, dean of education, Columbia, Mo., and Miss Katherine Spangler, Clinton, Mo.

The association went on record as endorsing the Lee and Baker educational programs, a uniform certification fee, the establishment of a state-wide teachers retirement fund, and more appropriation for all schools.

President Lamkin remains chairman of the building committee of the association. Mr. Lamkin presented the report of the committee favoring Columbia as the headquarters for the state association. The vote of the committee was four to one in favor of Columbia and against Jefferson City.

The Northwest Missouri State Teachers College luncheon this year was one of the features of the meeting for all persons from this locality. L. E. Ziegler, superintendent of the Maryville schools and president of the Northwest Missouri District Teachers Association, was toastmaster.

Lawrence Says Bearcat Eleven Now Soldiering

All Spirit and Willingness to Practice Gone Before Final Game, Coach Says in Interview with Maryville News-paper

The following is an interview with Coach Lawrence, Bearcat mentor, concerning the Maryville-Tarkio game on Thanksgiving. It is published through the courtesy of the Maryville Democrat-Forum.

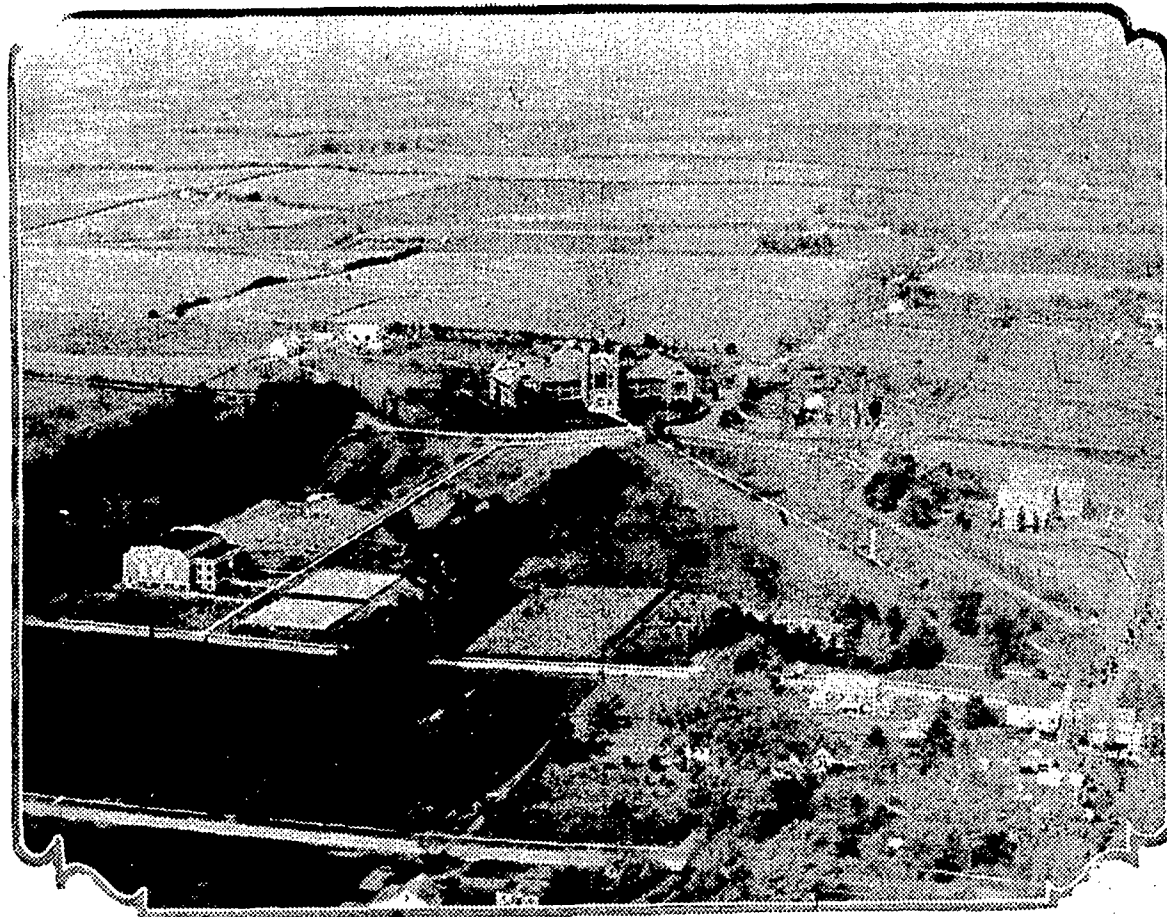

There is likely to be much woe in the camp of the Bearcat if one listens to Coach H. Frank Lawrence. The College coach is entirely serious. There is no doubt of that. And all because his Bearcats refuse to listen to him as regards the last game of the season—the one with Tarkio on Thanksgiving Day.

Said Coach Lawrence this morning: "Unless the team wakes up before this week is over, there is no help next week. We do not have a game for this week. I purposely left the week end vacant that bruises and injuries might rest. I intended to have a thorough practice week in which all the season's faults might be gone over. But do you think that I can do it? I'll say I can't."

"Practice since the game with Warrensburg is fast becoming a joke. Two or three men are absent this night and two or three others the next. This man has to go home early. This one has to do this and that. At no time since the Warrensburg game have I had the entire personnel out to practice."

"And those who come out. Will they practice? They will not. With the exception of a very few, they do not pay attention to what is being said, they won't tackle, they won't run interference; they won't do anything except when driven to it. Why, (Continued on Page 4)

Have You Ever Wondered How the College Looks From the Air --- Well, This Answers Your Query

Have you ever wondered how our College looks from the air? When you have seen pictures of other institutions, taken from an airplane, have you tried to picture what S. T. C. looks like? Well, here you are. This is the first published photograph of the Maryville campus as taken from an airplane.

This picture was taken several weeks ago by D. A. Caldwell, secretary of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Caldwell has copyrighted the picture, and it is published in the Northwest Missourian through his courtesy and through that of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, which furnished the cut.

All of the College buildings are shown in the picture. The administration building, with the athletic field and barns, the Residence Hall, the new gymnasium, and President Lamkin's home are all visible.

This picture marked Mr. Caldwell's first experience as an aerial photographer. He took the picture with the same camera which he used on ground work. Critics say that this is a remarkable photograph for one without experience in aerial picture work.

Tax Commission Member in Visit To College Mon

A. H. Harrison Here Inspecting Institution Before Tax Body Makes Its Report for the Missouri Legislature

A. H. Harrison, a member of the Missouri Tax Commission, visited the College Monday and reviewed the budget submitted by the institution for the years of 1927 and 1928. Members of the commission are visiting all of the state institutions and are checking the budgets submitted by them.

Mr. Harrison arrived here Sunday night and left Monday afternoon. He had previously visited the State Teachers Colleges at Cape Girardeau and Springfield.

Early next month the tax commission will meet in Jefferson City and prepare their budget which will be submitted to the Missouri legislature when it convenes in January. Each state institution prepares a budget for the tax commission. Then the commissioners visit the institution and finally take what action they deem fit on the budget.

Mr. Harrison refused to comment on the College budget. "We are simply making a survey of the various state properties and determining what we think would be necessary in the way of an appropriation to run them for the next two years."

Curious Cub Again Pops Us with Question About Final Examinations for Students of the College

Once more the Curious Cub is on the trail of current opinion among the student body and the faculty. With the advent of examinations the question "What is your opinion of final examinations?" is a natural one and is the one selected by the Cub this week. Below are the answers given by various faculty members and students to this question. If you have any suggestions for questions to be asked by the Curious Cub, drop them in the box just outside room 212.

Wilbur Cox—I favor examinations. Examinations give the teacher a chance to find out what the pupil knows and gives the pupil a chance to find out what he knows himself.

Clarence Bush—I guess that examinations are a necessary evil. They serve as a prod, for when a student knows he has an examination coming he works harder. I believe that a teacher knows by the end of a quarter what a student is capable of doing.

Miss Carpenter—I believe in final examinations when they serve as a check on a student's individual mastery of a course. One finds in an examination if a student can express what he thinks he has learned. An examination should bring out the important points and summarize them.

Gordon Roach—I think that the present examination period has been grossly misused. It has deteriorated into an attempt to review an entire course in hours, whereas originally the two hour examination period was intended to give time for an examination and time for rest between examinations. Since it has become thus corrupted I am in favor of its abolition in that it discovers nothing about the student but what the teacher already knows and it is an overload on the student.

Mr. Cooper—I am in favor of final examinations only where classes are large. It is almost impossible to do justice to all the pupils in a large class without the use of final examinations. In small classes where the teacher has closer personal touch with the individual student I do not favor final examinations.

Charles Graham—if I were an instructor I believe that by the end of ten weeks I would know whether or not I had put my subject across to all the students. I believe that if a student writes a term paper which incorporates the important features of a subject that he has displayed better the knowledge he has gained than he would if an examination were taken over the same subject.

Mr. Hawkins—I think final examinations have their place in the higher educational institutions but just what evaluation to give them I would not want to say.

Luther Brock—The examination is an expression of the ability of the teacher and should not be counted against the student. If the teacher has no teaching ability, an examination from her would be unfair. If she knows her subject matter but lacks the ability to organize and present it to the student, then it is difficult for the student to retain it for examination.

Outdoor Tourney To Be Held Here December 3 and 4

Victorious Basketball Teams From Nineteen Counties to Compete in Maryville.—No Tournament for Girls

The College will sponsor an indoor basketball tournament December 3 and 4 for the championship outdoor teams of the nineteen counties in the Northwest Missouri district. This tournament usually is held earlier in the year, but this season it will not conflict with the football schedule of any school.

Only teams which have won the championship of their county will be eligible to compete in this tournament. This will mean that there cannot be more than nineteen teams in the tournament.

The College, as usual, will furnish entertainment for the visiting teams and coaches. Many of the counties have not yet held their elimination tournaments, but these will either be held this week or next, and it is hoped that the full nineteen teams will be entered.

All teams will receive free board and room from the College from the time they arrive in Maryville until they are eliminated from the tournament. The tourney is stretched over two days so that no teams will have to be over-taxed with games in one day.

Awards will be made to the winning team in the tournament. All games will be played in the new gymnasium.

There will be no tourney for girls' teams this year. The constitution of the Missouri State High School Athletic Association has ruled that it does not sanction interscholastic athletics for girls, and the College will abide by this decision.

Letters have been sent out by President Lamkin to all counties in the district, and entries for the tournament should begin to arrive at the College by the first of next week.

Teacher Seeking A Correlation in Industrial Arts

Miss Fisher Giving Courses Toward That Aim in Handwork and Subject Matter in Primary Handwork 23, 24

To correlate handwork with subject matter in the primary grades is a problem that confronts every primary teacher. Miss Fisher, of the industrial arts department, is offering this quarter and the coming quarter Primary Handwork, 23 and 24, both courses dealing with the problems of correlation between handwork and subject matter regularly taught. Handwork is used as a medium of teaching geography, arithmetic, history, literature and the industries. These courses, though not methods courses in name, have the fundamental qualities of a course in methods. When a teacher has been trained in presenting handwork in the proper manner, she has largely done away with the problem of how to have her pupils spend their time when not reciting. Busy work often has no definite correlation with subject matter and hence loses its educative value. In this light handwork, with its definite correlation, is very superior to busy work, the time killer.

A course in basketry is also offered by this department. This course consists of making useful articles of raffia, reed and other materials. Although the art of basket-making is one of the oldest of arts, it holds a place in the school curriculum and is recognized as having educative value.

A course in Handwork for Rural Schools, 22, will be offered next quarter. This course is designed for schools where equipment is limited. Paper cutting, crayon work, poster making, work in cardboard, thin wood, binding of magazines and weaving of baskets all are treated in such a way that they can be correlated with other school work.

Fall Quarter Is Almost Over and Exams Loom Up

Piano Recitals by E. Robert Schmitz Mark First Major Entertainment for Winter Quarter Which Opens Nov. 30

The fall quarter at the College is almost over. Monday will be the last day of recitation, and final examinations will be given on Tuesday and Wednesday. Then there will be a Thanksgiving holiday until Tuesday morning, November 30, when the winter quarter will begin.

Freshmen of the College will matriculate on Tuesday alone. After that day, first-year students will have to pay a late-registration fee. Classes for the freshmen will begin on Wednesday.

While the freshmen are beginning their class work, the sophomores and upperclassmen will be registering. All of Wednesday will be given over to this process, and classes for these students will meet for the first time on Thursday.

With the fall quarter in its waning hours, many students are busy "cranking" for examinations, while others are sighing the sigh of contentment which comes from the realization that each day's work was done when it should have been done and there need be no last-minute rush to "make the grade".

Examinations will start at 8 o'clock on Tuesday morning and will be over at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The schedule for the tests will be found elsewhere in this issue.

There will be twelve days of Christmas vacation for students. School will dismiss at 4 o'clock on December 22 and classes will meet again at 8 o'clock on January 4. This will be the only vacation during the winter quarter.

Programs for the winter quarter have been prepared by the faculty committee and students may secure copies to take home with them over the vacation period in case they wish to prepare their winter schedule before returning to Maryville.

The first entertainment feature of the winter quarter will be on December 2, when E. Robert Schmitz, pianist, will give two recitals in the College auditorium. In the afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, he will give a lecture recital, and at 8 o'clock at night he will give a concert recital. Major entertainment coupons will be good for the night recital. Admission in the afternoon will be by card only. These cards may be secured by all interested from Mr. Gardner or from the administration office.

Last summer Mr. Schmitz gave a master's course in piano at Colorado Springs. Mr. Annett of the Conservatory of Music faculty attended this course and is high in his praise of the pianist who will be here December 2. Following is the program which Mr. Schmitz will give at his concert recital:

Pastorale and Fugue in G Minor, transcription by Liszt, Bach.
Burlasca, Scarlatti.
Bourree, Scarlatti.
Sister Monique, Couperin.
Tocatta, Scarlatti.

Nocturne in C Minor, Chopin.
Etude No. 4, Chopin.
Nocturne in F Sharp Major, Chopin.
Polonaise in A Flat Major, Chopin.
Prelude in A Minor, Debussy.
Fireworks, Debussy.
Moonlight, Debussy.
Dance, Debussy.

Chimes of St. Patrick's (New York Days and Nights), Whithorne.
Plays of the Water, Ravel.
First Spanish dance from "La Vida Breve", de Falla.

Y. M., a Movement and Not a Building, Said

"The Y. M. C. A. is a movement and not a building," said Mr. Frank Little, acting State Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. organization at the regular meeting of the local group last week, "as many people are likely to say it is."

"It is a movement which is trying to bring young men together where they can agree on the fundamental things of Christian religion, regardless of creed or doctrine. We need less of what we think about Jesus and more of what he said about himself," he said.

Mr. Little pointed out that the movement reaches all classes of people and that there are opportunities for service, through the Y. M. C. A., on our own campus.

Devotion was led by Homer Needles, who read Matthew 22:16-23. The meeting was concluded by group singing.

COLLEGE OATH
"We will never bring disgrace to this, our college, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the college. We will respect and obey the college laws and do our best to make a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this college to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

FOOTBALL
An encouraging sign that we have progressed beyond the "savage era" is to be found in football as it is played today. Savage tactics in this as in other sports are taboo. Instead we find teamwork and sportsmanship going hand in hand with hard playing.

Instead of losing their heads in battle they play the game on the square, commanding respect and plaudits. Carried into industry this spirit of fair play and teamwork helps further to make work attractive.

Sports constitute the beginning of an educational program that fits us for life in this age of scientific development. Most important, most vital, it teaches us how to get along with each other.

High School Notes

Grant City

The Grant City High School is editing a weekly newspaper published in connection with the Worth County Times. This is the second year that the high school has published a paper and the student body feels that it is indeed worth while. The members of the staff are: Editor-in-chief, Beulah Barber; assistant, Jubal Farrell; assistant, Diva Motesinger; sport editor, Garland Clark; joke editor, Marjorie Keyes; senior, Grace Beavers; junior, Madeline Hass; sophomore, Doris Hastings; and freshman, Edith Osborn.

The senior teachers training students attended the County demonstration classes one day last week and then finished the day with a winner roast before returning home. These students go to the various rural districts the first of December to do their practice teaching.

The first basketball practice of the Grizzlies was held last week. All of the last year's team is back with the exception of one player. Mr. Brown is coaching the girls. The schedule for the year is nearing completion.

The Razoo club, a pep organization, has been working hard to furnish the pep for the football games. They also see that the preliminary arrangements for the games, such as selling tickets, wrapping goal posts, etc., are carried out.

Election day the American Problems class held an election of their own, using ballots printed in the newspapers. The results, however, were much different than those of the regular election returns.

Gilman City

The senior class gave a carnival at the school building October 29. The proceeds received were used to buy class rings. The entertainment consisted of a band concert performed by the seniors, wrestling match, shadow show, lunch stands, etc. A prize was given to the best masked couple and to the best masked person.

The athletic association was offered five cents on every thirty-five cent ticket sold for the show "The Volga Boatman". A free ticket to the show was given to the individual selling the most tickets.

Three debating teams have been organized in Gilman High School. The preliminary debate was held in the school building on Tuesday, November 16. The winners of this debate will debate with Coffey, November 30.

The Junior High School teams went to Trenton Friday, November 5, to play the Trenton Junior High team. The Trenton boys won by a score of 52 to 2; the Gilman girls won 15 to 12. This was the first game ever played by the Gilman Junior High girls.

The seniors received their class rings last week. They are white gold with black enamel and the letters G. H. S. on the crest.

Hatfield

The Hatfield boys' basketball team journeyed to Chautauque Friday, Oct. 29, where they were defeated by a score of 22 to 13. Both the girls' and boys' teams play Worth Friday, Nov. 5, at the Hatfield gymnasium.

The school has been divided into two societies. Programs will be given every month by one of the societies, and during the course of the year, each society will put on a play.

The program and box-supped which was given at the High School gymnasium Saturday night proved very successful.

The Hygiene class is now studying the structure of the eye. They have ordered some charts and intend to make some tests in the school for astigmatism.

The American History class is discussing current events every Friday for its lesson.

The people of Hatfield have organized a Hatfield community band under the direction of Mr. DeWitt and are making rapid progress. Several of the high school students have ordered instruments and intend to learn to play them so they can organize a school band in a few weeks.

Gallatin

Gallatin and Princeton tied a 6 to 6 score in a hard fought football game last week. Princeton scored on a fumble, their captain scooping up the ball in an open field and crossed the Gallatin goal line for the six points. The try for the extra point was unsuccessful.

Gallatin, not to be outdone by their rivals, gave the ball to Tague, who scored on a long end run, tying the score, which seemed impossible to break.

The try for the extra point failed. The frazier for Robertson, ends for Gallatin, are out of the game suffering from a broken collar bone and a fracture, respectively.

The Gallatin basketball team won third place in the County tournament. Altamont took first honors and Jameson was second.

Bigelow

The girls' basketball team, better known as the Tigerettes, won the tournament held at Porteus, Mo., October 30. The team defeated Porteus by the score of 11-8. Erma Smith, captain of the Tigerettes, presented the trophy that was won to the school at a pep assembly held last week. Miss Fauna E. Robertson, coach of the team, is a former student of S. T. C.

An Armistice program was given at the regular assembly last Tuesday by the intermediate room, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Fisher Keith.

It was announced that the indoor basketball season would open on November 15, with a fast schedule of games for both the boys' and girls' teams.

Five of the teachers out of a faculty of seven are former students or graduates of S. T. C. They are: John M. Englund, superintendent; Fauna E. Robertson, Mattie Crabtree, Georgia Poynter and Irene Carstens.

The primary room, taught by Miss Poynter, presents a very interesting appearance to both students and visitors. Each pupil in the room has made a booklet of famous paintings and the third grade has a tablet which depicts Eskimo life.

Skidmore

The Skidmore basketball teams journeyed to Maryville last Saturday for the tournament, but, sad to say, returned home unvictorious. Marjorie Peoples, a Skidmore guard, received a dislocated shoulder, which weakens considerably the girls' team.

The Jubilee Singers, whom radio listeners have heard from station KMA, gave a program at the Royal Hall Tuesday evening, November 9. The program was for the benefit of the boys' basketball team.

The Freshman class gave a program in the assembly last Monday morning. The program consisted of a vocal duet

Kirkville Freshman Gives Humorous Slant to Our Bearcats' Game With the Bulldogs There

The following article was taken from the Kirkville Index, and gives an interesting humorous account of the Kirkville-Maryville football game.

Dear Editor:

"Football is a wonderful thing," so I heard a fellow say once who had attended college. This fellow was a wise bird and every body knew it so when he said it, it must be true (especially since he was the biggest man in my home town).

Well—to make a long story short, (I heard a tent show man say that once) I decided that since I had paid three dollars and a half for a little pink ticket which would admit me to the games, I would go see this K. S. T. C. crowd who call themselves "Bulldogs" play the Maryville college.

We had had several days vacation because of a lot of old "grads" and N. B. Missouri teachers who were making a big day of it and coming to Kirkville for a conference. Everybody was feeling pretty gay because he didn't have any lessons to get, so when I went into the College Stadium I saw everybody jumping up and down and yelling like madmen. Since this was the first game I had ever looked on, I thought this was part of it and started to jump too. Just then though some big bruiser slapped me, a dirty wallop and told me I was blocking the aisle and to get myself out of there. I think it is terrible the way these faculty members and upper-classmen treat us freshmen.

After this I found a seat which was right next to a fellow who wore a big white K on his sweater. I started asking questions why they used eleven men on a team instead of ten and why they

King City

A first degree murder case is being tried by the Business Law class of the high school.

The Teacher Training classes have been preparing a bibliography over the teacher training library, which consists of one hundred and fifty books.

The Senior class held a party at the home of one of the members of the class last week.

The Freshman entertainment was postponed until the middle of the month due to a large pep meeting being held on the former's date.

There will be only three days school this week due to the teachers' meeting being held in Kansas City. Miss Pence, the Home Economics instructor, is attending a vocational meeting before the regular teachers meeting.

Debate is giving way to oration and extemporaneous speaking this year. Girls basketball practice is now under way but as yet games have not been scheduled.

Maitland

Maitland won two games of basketball last week making the total of four consecutive games won. Graham was defeated in a practice game 17-12 and Belleview was defeated October 22, in a close game by the score of 20-15. Maitland expects to enter the Holt County tournament with a clean record. The last out-door game was played last Friday. Joe Weller has been elected captain of the squad for this season's work.

The Sophomores gave the first picnic of the year last week. Guests were the faculty of the high school and the grade schools.

Weatherby

The Weatherby High School has just completed the first quarter of what promises to be a most successful year. When speaking of quantity the school can not brag, but the student body claims that what they lack in quantity is made up in quality. There are twenty-four students enrolled in the high school.

An orchestra under the direction of Mr. Ray Neff, of Cameron, has been recently organized and work is going along rapidly.

The girls' basketball team won the championship of the DeKalb County tournament from a list of seven starters. This is the first honor of its kind for Weatherby and the student body is justly proud of their team.

The regular members of the team are: DeHart, captain, and Linquest, forwards; Allen, jumping center; Sloan and Channell, guards.

In the same tournament the Weatherby boys won high honors by defeating the Santa Rosa team in the finals, 13-9.

Garden Point

With the entry of three new students in the last two weeks the enrollment was increased to seventy-one.

This school is offering for the first time this year a course in public speaking and advanced composition. This study is not expected to make Patrick Henry out of the pupils but is intended to aid them in meeting the practical didn't use a round ball instead of a lop-sided one, et cetera. This guy evidently thought he was too good to talk to a "frosch" so he told me to shut up. When I grow up, I'll smack his sassy face.

Finally, the two teams lined up in rows opposite each other with the ball in the center of the field. Just then I heard a whistle which sounded like a bird and I started to stand up and look for it, but somebody in back kicked me and I sat down again.

One team (the Bulldogs) had kicked the ball to Maryville. A big fellow with a nice, little, black mustache caught the ball and started toward the other end of the field with it under his arm. All of his own team then got in his way and he stumbled over them. If they would only have sense enough to stay out of the way, he could go better.

The game dragged on until a gun was fired. Everybody said "first quarter" and I asked how many quarters there were in a game. With a touch of disdain in their voices they told me that there were four, so I stayed instead of going home then. It seemed very queer to me that with all of his men dressed the way they were, that Coach Fautot should be dressed as if he were going to his wedding (or somebody else's maybe), and that everytime a man got tired and wanted to rest that he would run out and punch him until he got up.

At the end of the second quarter, the score board said that Kirkville was leading 20 to 7 but I don't see how they ever got twenty when they only scored three times. It seems to me that it should be three to Maryville's one, but it was in our favor so don't say anything to the referee.

needs of speaking before a group and in applying the arts of good composition. The class is progressing splendidly and is beginning to appreciate the value of the mental discipline and self control gained by such a course.

The school has joined the Missouri State Debating League, and will contend with at least three other schools on the subject of the World Court. The members of the squad are Thelma Burton, Lucile Cox, Robert Cummings, Julia Duncan, Tiffany Hoskins, and Elsie Wright.

The students of the physiology class are beginning a food experiment on a group of white rats sent out by the state university.

Home economics is one of the outstanding courses in our school. The department was started three years ago. The Parent-Teachers Association materially assisted in providing the initial funds. The boys of the agriculture classes then added simple cabinets and tables of their own construction. These are inexpensive yet very attractive and practical. The class is serving hot lunches again this year. This work not only supports the department and supplies the student body with a hot lunch but also teaches the girls to cook in family proportions. To make this course more practical each girl is required to do so much cooking in her own home. The community as a whole is quite proud of the work that Mrs. J. G. Pummell is doing with this class.

Gallatin

The Gallatin high school was dismissed the last part of last week in order that the teachers could attend the teachers meeting held in Kansas City.

The Gallatin Bulldogs played the Chillicothe football team last week but were defeated 7-0. The game was hard fought through-out. The Chillicothe team scored its points when Gallatin received a fifteen yard penalty, placing the ball on Gallatin's goal line.

Use of the dictionary is emphasized in the fifth grade of Milwaukee public schools. Not only are the children taught to locate specific words but they are trained in syllabication and pronunciation, as well as in the etymology of words. Use of the telephone directory in the fourth grade for the tracing it gives in sequence of letters is recommended by the superintendent of schools as introductory to the study of the dictionary, and definition hunting is commended as a delightful pastime for children.

Leo Halasey Commits "Crime" for Benefit of His Law School Class

Many of the faculty and older students remember Leo Halasey. Leo is now studying law at St. Louis University. Recently a St. Louis paper printed a story of an "escapee" in which Leo figured. Those who remember Leo can easily understand with what joy the Maryville boy undertook the task assigned him by a law professor.

Leo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Halasey of Maryville. He goes to school in the day time and works in the St. Louis postoffice at night.

Following is the story:

(From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch). Junior law students of St. Louis University were listening to a lecture by Prof. C. C. Wheaton at 10 a. m. Wednesday when Leo Halasey (a member of the class) got up to open a window. Another law student, John Casey, Jr., edged near Halasey and they had angry words.

For several days prior to this outbreak they had been engaged in an apparent feud, and the startled class watched them in apprehensive silence. Suddenly Casey struck Halasey a blow, knocking him aside, and the classmates saw Halasey draw what appeared to be a knife and stab Casey.

Groaning, Casey slumped to the floor, a red stain spreading over his shirt front. Halasey pushed frantically through a group of students near the door and escaped.

Class Thrown Into Confusion. Immediately the class room was thrown into utmost confusion. Some of the students started after Halasey.

Three rushed to Casey's side and, panicking at the sight of the red stain, they carried him to the administration office. Word of the tragedy spread through the school. Members of the faculty hurried to the scene and Dean Alphonse Elberle of the Law School tried to assemble the frightened students for an investigation.

Someone remembered that police should be called and at this juncture the stricken Casey ceased groaning and laughed.

The "blood" had come from a bottle of red ink. The "knife" was a rubber dagger. Halasey and Casey had faked bitter enmity. It was all in fun.

"We wished to demonstrate the general inaccuracy of eyewitness accounts," announced Prof. Wheaton, who was the only other man beside the two students in on the secret.

A Dozen Different Versions. Most of the eyewitnesses looked sheepish. They had told a dozen different versions of what had occurred.

Senior law students will be required to interview all the witnesses and prepare cases for the prosecution and defense in a mock trial to be held within two weeks. Halasey is charged with "assault with intent to kill." Casey will appear against him as the State's chief "witness."

His story and the stories told by other eyewitnesses vary amusingly, and Prof. Wheaton considers it was worth throwing the university into consternation to show his students that eyewitness testimony may be very unreliable.

New York Children Grouped by Ability

Thirty-five Per Cent of Junior and Senior High Schools in State Are Following Practice.

Pupils are grouped according to ability in approximately 35 per cent of the junior and senior high schools in the State of New York, according to 497 replies received to a questionnaire sent out by the educational measurements bureau of the State department of education, to ascertain the extent to which grouping is carried out in the high schools. Grouping is usually effected in the ninth grade, and is generally based on intelligence tests, though frequently on the teacher's estimate of the pupil's ability or his marks in school. In 147 schools pupils of different ability are grouped in separate classes, and 109 schools reported that ability groups are formed within classes. Some schools use both procedures.

Many from College to See "Miracle" in K. C.

Army of Technicians Now Busy Making Over Convention Hall for Production Opening November 22

A number of faculty members and students from the College plan to attend "The Miracle" during its run in Kansas City. Numerous reservations have already been made, and many others are contemplating seeing the great spectacle.

"The Miracle," the great spectacle which will be seen in Kansas City for three weeks, beginning Monday evening, November 22, and continuing daily, except Sunday, until Saturday, December 11, is now in the process of construction in Convention Hall. The massive production was brought direct from Philadelphia, where it closed a memorable run of five weeks on November 6. Armies of technicians and mechanics are now busy converting Convention Hall into a Gothic cathedral of the twelfth century for the complete performance of Max Reinhardt's world-famous pantomime drama. Many of the company of players are already on hand, and the others will arrive here during the coming week. Lady Diana Manners, Iris Tree, Elinor Patterson, Lionel Braham, Luis Rainer and the others of the internationally famous cast, will get here during the week, in time for the rehearsals. They have been playing their roles in "The Miracle" for four seasons. Fritz Feld, the piper of the east, Orville Caldwell, the romantic knight, and Elizabeth Schirmer, the beautiful understudy for Lady Diana Manners, have already come to Kansas City, as have the entire technical crew over two hundred "types" who play the various roles in the mammoth production.

The opening night, Monday evening, November 22, will be one of the most brilliant events in the artistic history of this part of the country. Lady Diana Manners will play the Madonna and Iris Tree the nun on this occasion. Lady Diana plays in every performance and Miss Iris Tree and Miss Elinor Patterson alternate in the role of the nun. Lady Diana also plays the role of the nun on matinee days, which are Thursday and Saturday. Performances are given every evening, except Sunday, and matinees on Thursdays and Saturdays.

The engagement of "The Miracle" in Kansas City will be the only one in this part of the country as the great production is then moved to San Francisco and Los Angeles, where it closes its season. Thousands are coming to Kansas City from all parts of the southwest and middle west to attend the twenty-four performances to be given there. The railroads are running special excursions and the greatest fall festival of dramatic art is being provided by Kansas City for its trade territory. There will be over six hundred in the cast, including a choir of 100 and a symphony of 50. The magnificent Gothic setting will give lovers of the artistic in this part of the country an opportunity of seeing what the world of the theater has proclaimed the greatest stage setting ever devised.

Three College Girls At Baptist Gathering

Convention in Birmingham, Ala., Is Inspirational, According to Delegates From Maryville

The first all southern Baptist Student conference was recently held in Birmingham, Alabama. The students representing the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College were Dorothy England, Loretta Jones and Edith Shoemaker.

The conference took in eighteen southern states and the District of Columbia. One thousand five hundred students representing 152 different schools made up the convention.

The purpose of the convention was to draw the Baptist students of the South together in a conference to discuss problems on the college campus and through inspiration gained at this meeting to make plans to better these conditions at the various colleges. Another aim was to better the churches of the world.

The keynote of the conference was "Christ, Master of My Generation". All of the addresses and discussions centered upon this keynote to bring about the various points.

Some of the outstanding speakers were Dr. Henry Alfred Porter, pastor in St. Louis; Dr. George W. Truett, pastor in Dallas, Texas; Dr. William Russell of Macon, Ga., and many others.

Previous to this year the states have been having their separate meetings annually. It has been decided to have state meetings for the first three years and then have a south wide conference every fourth year.

right shoulder. This handicapped the Bearents somewhat.

All Players Are Stars
All members of the Maryville team were stars in the game. Some shone more brilliantly, perhaps, but all played so well that there was glory in the defeat.

Willoughby's running back of Warrensburg punts was delightful to the record-breaking crowd which witnessed the game. All of the bleachers were packed and a wall of cars circled the entire gridiron. On several instances these fans were brought to their feet by outstanding open-field running on the part of the diminutive Bearent quarter.

O'Banion, who played slightly more than half of the game, was at his best. Never has he performed so creditably for his school. And the other players were about as good.

For Warrensburg, Whiteman, Brown and Captain Williams were outstanding.

Diogenes went in a drug store. "Have you a hair tonic that will grow hair?" "No, sir," said the clerk, "we have not."

"My search is over!" cried Diogenes. "Here, shake hands, sir!"—Life.

Jesse Joy, Ravenwood Boy, Scorns Shoes as He Trains for His Races

Two years ago an Indian boy from Ravenwood by the name of Jess Joy, created quite a sensation in Missouri high school athletic circles by his wonderful track and field ability. Joy was an outstanding athlete at the Northwest Missouri High School track meet here, and later attracted attention at the state meet in Columbia. He is now a freshman at Drake University, Des Moines. The following is a story concerning him:

(Both photograph and story by courtesy of the Des Moines Register.)

A "back to nature" movement has been started at Drake University by Jess Joy of Ravenwood, Mo., part Cherokee Indian, track star. Revolving at the custom of wearing shoes, Joy doffs his pedal coverings the moment he can race away from his classes, and haunts the Drake fieldhouse and stadium, where he runs daily in his bare feet and a scant track suit.

Shoes have no place in Joy's life. In the coldest of weather, he trots around the cinder track at Drake with no thought for the stones and cinders, for his feet are apparently tougher than the toughest cowhide. He ran yesterday in the sleety rain in a track shirt and light trunks.

The Indian lad is a sports prodigy. From his Indian ancestry comes the desire for physical freedom, he declares. He shuns the conventions of society—silk socks and patent leather shoes.

Sans shoes, Joy races around the field, tries a broad jump, the hurdles, and the pole vault.

"I run without shoes to develop my legs," Joy, a handsome chap with dark eyes and coal black hair, explained. "At home, I never wore shoes except in the coldest weeks of winter. I always tried to live close to nature. In the summer time I work in the harvest fields from Missouri to North Dakota and never wear shoes. What are they good for?" he inquired.

"Yes, the coach is making me wear spikes sometimes while I run, but it's only an experiment. Maybe I'll like them, but I doubt it."

"You can't dance in bare feet," he said, smiling.

Y Organizations Hold Joint Meet Tuesday Morning

Seventy-Five Members Present.—Conference Reports Given by Three Y. W. C. A. Members.—Meetings Announced

The Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. held a joint meeting last Tuesday. This is the first of a number of joint meetings that are planned by the organizations for the coming year.

The devotional was read by Vernon Barrett and a vocal solo was given by Paschal Monk. The next numbers on their program consisted of three talks given by Edith Shoemaker, Dorothy England and Loretta Jones on the subjects of the Southern Baptist Student Convention, held in Birmingham, Alabama, October 29 to 31 inclusive, and Campus Problems.

Very interesting, inspiring, practical as well as idealistic talks were given by the speakers. Some of the problems discussed are being considered as to their feasibility in actual use.

Of the combined organizations, there were seventy-five members present at the meeting.

The Y. W. C. A. will not hold any more meetings until December 7, of the Winter quarter, due to examinations being held next week and to the fact that there will be no school on November 30.

It is also announced that cabinet meetings of the Y. W. C. A. are held every Wednesday at 4:20, in room 122. Every chairman of a committee is supposed to attend these meetings.

Dramatics Club Gives Two Outstanding Plays

Last Meeting of Organization for Fall Quarter Will Be in Auditorium Next Tuesday Night

Two outstanding one-act plays were given at the regular meeting of the Dramatics Club in the College auditorium Tuesday night. Next Tuesday the club will have its final meeting of the quarter.

The plays Tuesday night were "Sham," a social satire by Frank Tompkins, and "The Man in the Bowler Hat," a farce by A. A. Milne. Following are the casts:

"Sham."
The wife, Dorothy England,
The husband, Leland Medsker,
The burglar, Roy Dickman,
The reporter, Willis Wamsley.
"The Man in the Bowler Hat."
Mary, Lois Dakan,
John, Guy Cannady,
Chief Villian, Russell McCoy,
Bad Man, Fred Street,
Woman in the Case, Kathryn Cadowder.

Strong Man, Warren Max,
Man in the Hat, Frank Cline.

The plays to be given at the next meeting are "The Land of Hearts Desire," and "Manicure and Mannikin." About 200 students attended the meeting Tuesday night.

are willing to meet defeat. Rules mean nothing to them now. The sad part is that they are aided in breaking training rules by their sweet girl friends who should have a more wholesome respect for the team on which her darling plays.

"The apathy of the Beareats may be caused by the fact that Tarkio has lost all her conference games this year, although I personally think it is because they think they are perfect plus. At least then it is the reason why the town tells them it will be easy. It is the reason why the students will all go home and not stay and support their team as they should do."

"This is my seventh year as a coach and I want to tell you something. The worst Tarkio has been beaten this year by any team is by the margin of 10 points. From the way the Beareats have played all year, 10 points is a great deal for them to score. It is certain in my mind that they will not score the 42 points that the team last year scored, and I am also certain that Tarkio will score on them as they did last year when they hung up 15 points. What is more, unless the Beareats wake up soon—I am just as certain that they will be on the short end of whatever score is made."

"They can win, but they won't unless someone jars their self conceit. I've tried to do it, but as I have said, they all know more than I do now."

Newman Club Reports On October Supper

The regular Newman Club meeting was held last Tuesday and was opened with an invocation by Miss Margaret Franken. The president, Sarah Boone, requested reports from the various committees. The committees reported plans for a party or an outdoor supper which was given Wednesday evening in the College park.

Social Meeting of Organization Held in Sewing Laboratory Last Friday Afternoon

The Kappa Phi's held their social meeting in the sewing laboratory last Friday afternoon, November 12.

The roll call was answered with current events that pertained to Home Economics. The demonstration on "The care and bathing of a baby," by Miss Davidson, County Nurse, was rendered in a very pleasing manner.

Following this, Bernice Cox and Susie Doebbling explained a southern menu, after which the group was invited to the dining room where the following was served: French fried dashers, beaten biscuits and cream curd.

Mildred Davis, Bernice Cox, Susie Doebbling and Mrs. Mary Summers were in charge of the program.

MARY JANE JONES HURT

Mary Jane, the 3-year-old daughter of Coach and Mrs. Jones, sustained a painful injury late Thursday afternoon at the Jones home on South Mulberry street. Mary Jane experimented with the electric washing machine, and accidentally turned on the current while holding on to the wringer. Her right hand was pulled through the rollers and her arm above the elbow was badly mangled and lacerated.

No bones were broken, and the doctor says that Mary Jane will recover satisfactorily unless complications set in.

W.J. Studer Talks to College Ad Students

W. J. Studer, advertising manager of the Maryville Democrat-Forum and Tribune, spoke to the advertising class of the College last Tuesday. Mr. Studer briefly outlined to the class the main factors and principles that are necessary in order to have good advertising.

There are a number of different ways in which advertising can be accomplished, but whatever method is used, it is necessary to know the goods that are to be advertised.

The class used the round-robin system of asking Mr. Studer questions that they did not understand and of points in which they were interested.

The class was Mr. Studer's guest earlier in the year, at which time they made an observation trip of the newspaper's plant.

Calling anyone at the Dormitory is like trying to communicate with Mars.

The Officers, Directors, and Stockholders of Maryville's Bank of Personal Service

WISH YOU the happiest of a Thanksgiving season. You have now completed one-third of your College year. May the other two quarters of the year be still more profitable to you, and may you reap a harvest of good from the time you spend in Maryville.

While Thanksgiving Day calls to our minds the fact that there are so many things which we should be thankful for, let us not confine our thankfulness to this day alone, but, rather, be mindful of our opportunities day by day.

This institution is thankful that the College is located in Maryville, and that you have been with us. May our paths cross for many years to come.
